EXPERIENCEPeak Travel - WHYY March 2024- Current

I'm currently editing the deeply researched and highly produced second season of WHYY's Peak Travel, a show about tourism and how it affects the places we visit. The show won a 2024 Signal Award for Best New Podcast.

Gimlet Media/Spotify May 2016 – June 2023

At Gimlet I rose from associate producer to editor, and developed a reputation for being an innovative and reliable project manager, mostly in limited run investigative series as the company transitioned from a scrappy start-up to a division of a multinational corporation.

Editor and Senior Producer credits:

The Colbert Report Oct 2010 – May 2016

As the writers' assistant I managed the writers' workflow and communication with executive producers, standards and practices, and legal, all while hitting tight daily deadlines. I won a Peabody award for our segments on SuperPACs.
